

PREDICTIVE ASTROLOGY COURSE BY OLGA VASILCHUK

This course is intended for those who want to master the techniques for predicting future events and who wish to learn how to manage the “trends” in their life.

The question of the future has always been a central subject for man. What will happen tomorrow, in a month, in a year? And what’s more; how can astrology help us in this quest? Despite its popularity today, there are many techniques and methods of interpretation. However, they do not include purely systemic approaches or logical structures. True astrology is an exact science, and it is an effective tool for achieving success in different areas of life – in business, career, personal relationships, and building a healthy family life.

And now imagine that you can not only “read” future events, but also change their course and create new trends for the future. You could transform your life if you knew the opportune time to open a business, make the best financial investment, sign a new contract, buy an apartment, launch an advertisement, and change your current situation in life. In short, you will know when the best time to act has arrived and when it is best to wait. And the answer is: “In the right place and at the right time”.

How can these opportune moments reveal themselves to you? The answer is in studying predictive techniques. I therefore invite you to this unique, one-of-a-kind, course.

What You Will Learn:

- How to make predictions in business, career, and finance.
- The means of correcting negative predictions and relaunching trends.
- How to determine trends in personal relationships, predict marriage and anticipate divorce.
